

THE PILGRIM'S WAY

28 April – 28 July 2012

Are you interested in stories, writing, pilgrimage, medieval history, people, places, performance and celebration?
Then walk this way...

Although sadly neglected today, it is said St Anne's Well was once one of the most important sites of pilgrimage in the British Isles – visited by royalty and noble men, sailors and merchants and good old Bristol Folk alike. Come and join Show of Strength and Discover Brislington Brook on an exciting adventure exploring "The Pilgrim's Way".

THE PILGRIM'S WAY

28 April – 28 July 2012

In 2010 Show Of Strength Theatre Company produced TRADING LOCAL: a day of live theatre performances in shops on Sandy Park Road using stories created by local people.

Now, due to popular demand, they're back in Brislington running four writing workshops based around the history of St Anne's Well and the old pilgrim route.

See below for writing workshop dates as well as a whole host of other delightful walks, talks and events to get your creative juices flowing and inspire the explorer in you.

All events are Free drop-in sessions unless otherwise stated
